Helping Individuals Achieve Financial Independence

FROM OUR FORMER INTERNS:

“I believe that overall, TFHC does an excellent job connecting interns and volunteers with valuable projects applicable to his/her interests. This experience has absolutely advanced the goals and skills I identified.”

– Caitlin Buhr, Masters of Public Administration student from BGSU

“Volunteering as an intern here has been the most rewarding and fun part of my law school experience. The Fair Housing Center is like a family, and I recommend to all my classmates that they try to do an internship or externship here. Volunteering at TFHC has helped me to learn so much about the law of the Fair Housing Act and what a positive impact it has on the community in application. It is inspiring to see so many committed and positive people who love coming to work every day to make their community a better place.”

– Christina Rodriguez, UT College of Law Student

“Probably the best work environment I’ve ever been in.”

– Eric Brown, UT College of Law student
